1. Policies and procedures to identify major stakeholders

YunTech has established a stakeholder management team to identify local communities and stakeholders and bring them into participation. The tasks of the dedicated team include identifying and communicating with stakeholders, regularly reviewing the effectiveness of the university's interaction with stakeholders, and promoting stakeholder management knowledge.

<https://en.yuntech-csr.tw/sdgs-16-into/>

The stakeholders of Yuntech is defined as the person or organization that has direct or indirect influence on the school and is affected by the school. YunTech has establish procedures to identify external stakeholders and engage with them. This is reported on Sustainability Report. (see Governance and stakeholder engagement, Website of YunTech Sustainability, <https://www.yuntech-csr.tw/>)

Since the establishment of the YunTech Sustainability and Social Responsibility Committee in 2019, the following procedures are used to identify key stakeholders every year:

1. Confirm the major issues of school development;
2. Identify stakeholders on major issues affecting the development of school development;
3. Questionnaires are used to investigate issues of concern by major stakeholders;
4. The relevant units are responsible for the communication and participation of the corresponding stakeholders.

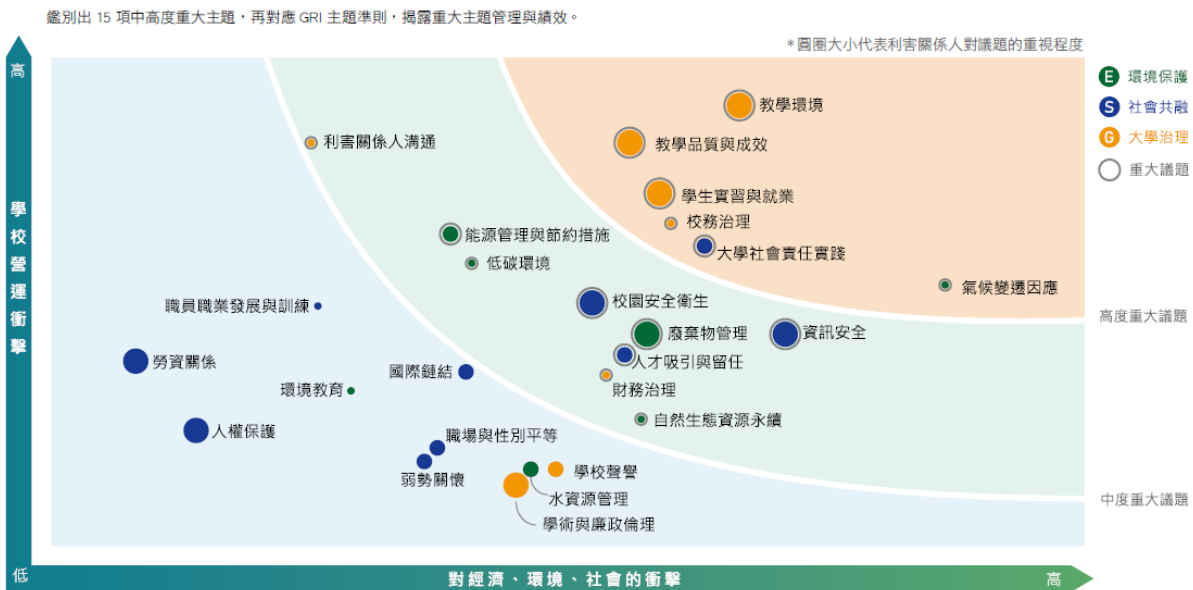

In 2021, through the resolution of the meeting of the Sustainability and Social Responsibility Committee, it was established that the main stakeholders for communication are current students, parents, faculty members, community members, alumni, enterprises, government organizations, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), suppliers, etc. big stakeholder. (Sustainability Report 2-3)

The school attaches great importance to communication with stakeholders and uses a variety of communication channels, including:

1. Each responsible unit invites stakeholders to participate in school development-related activities, meetings and surveys, etc.
2. The secretarial office has set up a "School Affairs Advice System" to provide students and staff with comments or responses on issues related to the school.
3. The Institution Research and Planning Center publishes Accountability Report on the current state of school affairs in December each year, which focuses on basic school affairs information, enrollment and enrollment, school expenses, school-running costs, learning experience, graduation and employment, R&D and social contribution, the satisfaction of stakeholders, etc.. The relevant results will be announced to the public, and multiple communication channels will be established to give feedback from stakeholders.
4. The Sustainability and Social Practice Center publishes Sustainability Report and sets up the YunTech Sustainability Website, providing two-way communication with stakeholders.

2. 2022 Major issues

The issues that have a high impact on the school and also have a high impact on the sustainability of economy, society, and environment include: teaching environment, teaching quality and effectiveness, student internships and employment, school governance, the practice of university social responsibility, and response to climate change.

Item 2. Engagement with stakeholders

1. Engage with Alumni

<https://www.yuntech.edu.tw/index.php/2019-04-10-08-06-20/item/6208-31>

YunTech organizes the alumni return to their parents' home during the annual school anniversary to engage with alumni.

YunTech held its 32th anniversary celebration on December 3, 2022 (Sat). The school arranges a series of celebration-related activities, including celebrations, tea parties, carnivals and creative fairs; and invites the retired faculty to return school, celebrating the 32th birthday of YunTech. ...

In addition, in recent years, the school's school celebrations and garden parties have adopted "plastic reduction and naked sales" as the theme, and promoted the theme of plastic reduction and environmental protection. The results have been remarkable. This year, we will continue to handle it. We call on all teachers and students to work together on environmental protection. In the creative market, the naked buying and selling movement is promoted, hoping to achieve the goal of reducing more than half of the garbage generated by the garden fairs in previous years...

The school also invites alumni to return to their natal homes, and the club carnival activities are even more colorful, showing various dance, music, drama and other programs. At the same time, the garden party also held fire escape drills-flying over Yunmeng Lake-assisted landing escape drill experience, military simulation competition and scientifically creative water rocket competition. Related activities have been announced on the school's website (<http://anniv.yuntech.edu.tw/30th/>). From the joyous atmosphere of the 30th anniversary of Yuntech, everyone witnessed the growth of Yuntech.

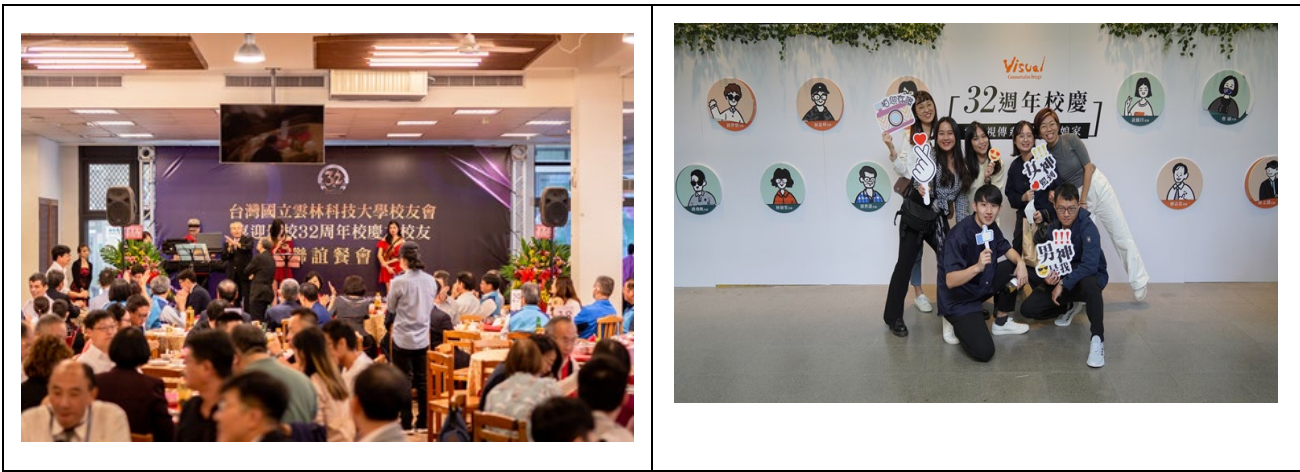

YunTech Art Center promotes the campus humanities and art conservation program, and organizes a series of art appreciation activities during the school anniversary to experience art feasts with alumni.

2. Engage with local NGO

Taiwan Institute for Sustainable Energy (TAISE) aims to facilitate research and development of sustainable energy and promote sustainable energy infrastructure. Many YunTech faculty participated in the evaluation of the Taiwan Sustainability Award from 2019 to 2022 held by the NGO. YunTech participated in the competition and shared the school's sustainable actions with the participants.

3. Engage with international NGO

NGO Partner: Arte del Mundo, Pelileo Grande, Ecuador

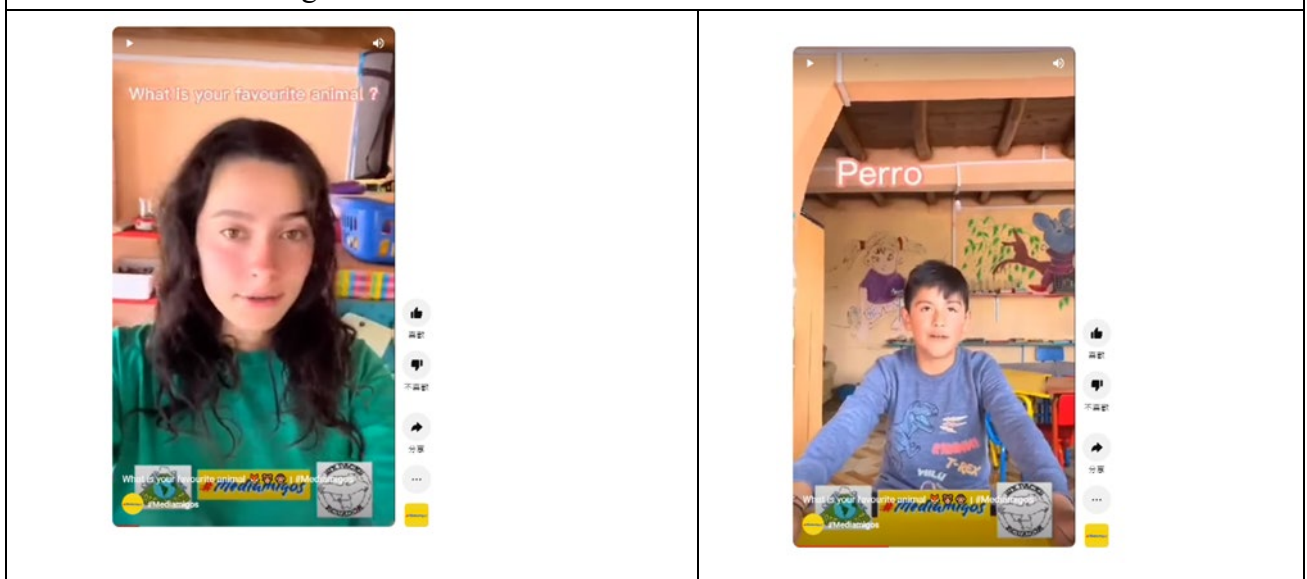

This initiative is a collaboration between teachers and students from YunTech's Department of Communication, along with Taiwan's Bigbyte English education institution and Ecuador's Fundación Arte del Mundo. From July to August 2022, local children from Fundación Arte del Mundo in Ecuador and children from Bigbyte in Taiwan took turns creating videos. They used both English and their native languages for translation, with the goal of promoting multidimensional language and cultural interactions. The project seeks to enhance children's communication skills and establish a YouTube platform account for promotion. It encourages more people to create videos introducing the unique characteristics of their countries within one minute. This initiative aims to provide a platform for online interaction, allowing people to continue international cultural exchange while staying at home during the pandemic.

1. Engage with local community

Local K-12 school: Southeast Junior High School and Linae Elementary School

The faculty-student teams of Department of Foreign Languages, Counseling Center, Language Center, and the local community collaborate to plan an English education program for the elementary and junior high schools in the rural communities. Due to the lack of resources in rural areas and the importance of English learning under the national bilingual policy, YunTech has cooperated with Southeast Junior High School and Linae Elementary School to organize related camps. These include English Story Camp, English Life Camp, Tourism English Learning Camp, and Robot Programming Camp, among others. The aims are twofold: firstly, to improve the English proficiency of K-12 students who are economically and culturally disadvantaged, and secondly, to incorporate elements of traditional Taiwanese culture into the teaching material. This approach cultivates the children's appreciation for the language and culture of Taiwan, thereby preserving and enriching the island's cultural heritage.
